JOHN O'KEEFE IS WIZARD OF ODDS

The odds were right for John O'Keefe of Daly City. He won $50 when he appeared as a contestant on the CBS network "Wizard of Odds" program broadcast August 20 from Hollywood.

"Wizard of Odds," emceed by Walter O'Keefe, is the new audience participation quiz show aired locally over KCBS at 2:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. In answering questions, contestants choose odds, depending on their own estimate of their ability to answer the questions, and the amount they win is scaled according to the odds chosen.

Mrs. Cecil Saarinen Is Named Asst. Librarian

Mrs. Cecil Saarinen was appointed as an assistant librarian at Monday nights council meeting.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year Mrs. Saarinen has been working full time at the Daly City library and waiting for the appointment. She had served the Daly City library as a part time worker for quite some time.

The appointment of Mrs. Saarinen raises the staff of the library to three full time employees. They are: Mrs. Lorraine Rollandi, librarian; Miss Frances Nier, assistant and Mrs. Saarinen.

SCHAEFFER -- LABRUZZO MUST WAIT

In keeping with the newly established policy of the city council where-by one year's probation must be served by city employees before permanent status is granted, police officers Jerry Schaeffer and Phillip Labruzzo were denied permanent status until a full year's employment had been served.

Emphasizing that the denial of permanant status was no reflection on the work or ability of either officer, the council explained its action by saying, "We have to start somewhere."

Tony Ricci, a member of the Daly City police commission, declared that the commission was in full agreement with the council on the matter of the probationary period. He denied, also, that the refusal was a reflection on Officers Schaeffer and Labruzzo.

COCCALLATERO IS FINED $250 FOR BOOKIE VIOLATION

John Coccallatero of 125 Valley street, Daly City, who was arrested on June 9 on a charge of permitting bookmaking on his premises, was found guilty this week and fined $250.

Coccallatero, who was arrested with Alfred N. Caputo, had previously pleaded not guilty to the little used charge.

Caputo and Coccallatero were the second pair arrested in Daly City since January 1 on charges growing out of gambling on horses in violation of the state penal code.

Arresting officers were Inspector Augie Benassini and Dave Johnstone.

Caputo had pleaded guilty to a charge of bookmaking last month.

Banks Tighter On Loans

Bank loans are harder to get at the present, Dan Harris, manager of the local branch of the Bank of America admitted this week.

Harris attributed the situation to a lack of knowledge by bank officials as to what is going to happen to the excess profits taxes which are presumably to be discussed by the next congress.

RICCI OPPOSES A NEW COMMISSION ON PARKING

The police commission will be very happy to sit down with any group and discuss the parking situation in Daly City, Tony Ricci, member of the commission, stated this week.

According to Ricci, the commission has made a comprehensive survey of the area and has drawn some definite conclusions which it would be happy to pass on to any interested parties.

Ricci said, "I have been on the police commission since its inception and have attended almost every meeting and during that period of time, no one has appeared before us to discuss the parking problem, nor have we received any reports concerning it.

"I do not agree that the police commission should be enlarged with members who are to devote all of their time to the parking problem, nor do I think that it is necessary to establish a parking commission."

Harold Lang Will Meet Mother And Brother Next Week In Los Angeles

The Lang family will be holding a family reunion in Los Angeles next week. Present will be Harold, the leaping Lang, who has danced his way from Jefferson Union high school to stardom in six Broadway musicals. There also will be Al, the piano-playing Lang, who is on summer vacation from teaching duties at a Gonzales, California school. Beaming at her two sons will be Mrs. Alois Lang of 12 Alp avenue.

Occasion of the Los Angeles reunion is the coming to town of "Pal Joey" current musical vehicle in which Harold has the leading role. In this story, Harold plays a cheap, small time chisler. The musical was written by Rogers and Hart and taken from John O'Hara's colorful story.

After the Los Angeles engagement, local people will be given a chance to see the home - town product at thet Curran theater in San Francisco. Fresh from a succesful run in Chicago, the musical will be presented in Portland, Seattle, and Salt Lake City after the local engagement is finished.

Boy On Bicycle Slightly Hurt

Sterling Oliver, 10, of 10 Forest Grove street, received minor injuries when the bicycle which he was riding collided with the automobile of Louis Gerald Varquez, 30, of 876 87th street.

According to the report made to police, the boy on the bicycle darted from behind a parked car. Varquez stated that the boy's bicycle skidded and the boy was able to throw himself on the fender of the automobile as the bicycle slid underneath.

Vasquez is the track coach at Washington high school in San Francisco.

HEALTH REPORT FOR LAST MONTH

Daly City residents reported 24 cases of communicable diseases to the county health office during the month of July.

Most prevalent disease was measles with 10 cases reported. Three cases each of tuberculosis and scarlet fever were reported. There was one case of whooping cough, gonorrhea and chicken pox. German measles found two victims.

Bookkeeping Machine Is Due On September 15

With the city council's approval, a bookkeeping machine from Tabulator, Inc., will be installed in the Water department on September 15.

The machine will simplify collections and the mailing of bills, according to City Administrator Dan Andersen.

COUNCIL PAYS WAR MEMORIAL HEATING BILL

At Monday night's meeting of the city council, Scott and Company were awarded $2790 payment for heating equipment installed in the War Memorial building. The money added to monies appropriated earlier brings the total cost of the heating equipment plus installation to $3529.80.

CITY EMPLOYEES WILL HAVE FREE SATURDAYS NOW

An ordinance granting Saturday holidays for city employees had its second reading at Monday night's meeting of the city council and was approved.

The ordinance, introduced by Councilman J. Paul Green, two weeks ago did not include members of the police and fire departments.

Before the meeting, a proposal to set the starting time of city employees at 8 o'clock was deemed impractical according to state laws governing the employment of women. City workers begin their day at 8:30 o'clock.

Council Keeps Word

NO HIGHER TAX RATE THIS YEAR

True to its promise, the city council of Daly City set the tax rate at $1.38, the same as last year.

The breakdown of the figure which was presented at Monday night's meeting is as follows:

General fund, 89c; recreation, 12; fire bonds, 8c; retirement fund, 10c; library, 6c; and parks, 13c.

JESSIE McGUFFIN SCRAPES AUTO

Mrs. Jessie McGuffin, 56, of 286 Second street, San Francisco, came to Daly City last week and had her troubles.

First, she jumped a stop sign and ran into a car—a Daly City police car—and scraped some paint off of the fender. When officers stepped out of the machine to discuss the matter they noted that she had been drinking.

Judge Fred Wyckoff, to whom these matters were related, decided that the had-been-drinking privilege was worth $150 and that jumping the stop sign should cost $5. To impress these matters upon the lady's mind, Judge Wyckoff put her on probation for six months.

MORE STUDY REQUIRED CONCERNING TRANSFER POINT CHANGE HERE

Three officials of the Municipal Railway of San Francisco answered a request of the city council of Daly City to visit Daly City and see what could be done about changing the transfer point of busses from the junction of San Jose avenue and Mission street.

Inspecting the possibilities of the change were Vernon Anderson, W. D. Mason and William Ratto. They reported that no action would be taken immediately because the study made of the subject had not been thorough enough to anticipate results.

After the inspection, the three officials visited the office of City Administrator Dan Andersen. Andersen, who had originally proposed that the bus transfer point be moved from San Jose and Mission to Flournoy street, offered them another idea. The new scheme was to reroute busses up Bepler street and around to Mission via Mission Circle.

D. C. Miller, general manager of the transportation company, disclosed that study of the entire situation is being held up by a map of the area which was requested from City Administrator Andersen. According to Andersen, the map has been mailed to the San Francisco office of the Municipal Railway.

One proposal which is definitely out is the extension of the 14 bus line down Mission street. The matter was described as financially impractical by officials of the company.

Although they appear to be reluctant to make any changes whatso-ever the one most favored by the transportation company is the move to Flournoy street.

If any move is made, the busses will still discharge passengers at the top of the hill but spend their waiting period on either San Jose avenue or Flournoy street. In event of the move, the inspector will be stationed at Flournoy and San Jose instead of at the corner of Mission street and San Jose avenue as is the case.

Busses which will be affected by the change if it takes place include Numbers 14, 26, 56 and 76.

Manager Miller predicted that no action will be taken in the immediate future, pending the arrival of the map of Daly City. He emphasized that Daly City officials have initiated this change and not his company.

Haskins Offers Lot To Merchants

A. R. Haskins stated this week that the proposed parking site on Bepler street between the Post Office and Mission street is available to the merchants of Daly City for the sum of $100 per month.

Haskins said that the work on the lot is not complete because he has had no takers for this offer so far and that he may be forced to put the lot to other uses.

He denied a report that he was dealing with City Administrator Dan Andersen for the lot.

According to Haskins, he has had offers from persons who are interested in establishing a super market on the corner of Bepler and Mission street.

Board Of Supervisors Says Storm Sewers Must Be Added Behind B'Moor

A communication from the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors informed the city council of Daly City that provisions for additional storm sewers must be made in the area behind Broadmoor where H. Doelger is building a subdivision.

According to the letter the county engineer made the recommendation. He warned that the storm sewers will not be adequate to accommodate more drainage than that for which they were originally designed.

The matter was referred to City Engineer E. M. Smith by the council.

Name Co-Chairmen For United Fund Drive In County

Co-chairmen for San Mateo county's United Crusade will be Harry A. Mitchell, of Atherton and T. Louis Chess of San Mateo. The appointments were announced today by Donald K. Grant, president of the local United Fund and Daniel G. Minto, chairman of the San Mateo County chapter, American Red Cross, the two organizations which will jointly conduct the Crusade. "In Mitchell and Chess we have two of the county's best known organizers," Grant and Minto stated. "Both have had years of experience in various campaigns. They have plans well under way for an organizational set-up for our campaign which gets under way October 6, coordinating with the entire Bay Area Crusade."

San Mateo county's share of the over-all goal will be $731,121 according to Mitchell and Chess.

In a joint statement Mitchell and Chess declared, "This United Crusade is new and on trial in San Mateo county. It will work if everyone does his share. It has many advantages; lowering of campaign costs by combining many drives into one concerted effort, saving of time and energy for thousands of solicitors who have previously worked on multiple fund-raising drives, and ease in giving for the contributor who may now budget his donation over a twelve month period by payroll deduction or signing of a pledge card.

"With our county population increasing at the rate of two thousand a month, now is the time for every citizen to start thinking about his donation to the coming Crusade, to maintain next year's youth, health, and welfare services which help to make the peninsula such a fine place to live."

Ridgely Cummings Reports

THE LONG WAY AROUND

Daylight was peeking through the slats of the venetian blinds and I had just reached that delicious stage of slumber where one grunts and turns over and burrows down in the blankets for another half hour nap. Suddenly two small, wiry objects catapulted upon my prostrate form.

"Go away," I protested sleepily.

There was a chattering reply. The word Sunday percolated as I tenaciously clung to the arms of Morpheus or whatever her name is. Note: assuredly the patron deity of sleep is a beautiful woman and the sex is correct, so the Greeks must have been mistaken.

The two whirling dervishes, who at this stage of the game seemed all knobby knees and elbows, climbed over me chanting, "Today's Sunday, daddy, today's Sunday."

"All the more reason why you should let me sleep. Ouch, take your knee out of my stomach."

"The Russian River, remember? You promised to drive us to the Russian River today," said Mark, who is seven.

"That's right. Let's get an early start and avoid the traffic," said Conrad, who is five and a half and must be precocious, since he has the ability to pick up adult expressions and deliver them with the gravity of a judge, as if he had just formulated them.

What with finding lost shoes, cooking breakfast, glancing at the Sunday paper, reading the comics out loud, waiting for the boss-lady of the Cummings ranch to apply water-proof cosmetics and select an especially fetching bathing suit, and other minor delays, we didn't get an early start. But eventually we backed our jalopy out and took off.

The boys were in the back seat and the first dispute of major consequence came as we approached the toll collectors on the Golden Gate bridge.

"It's my turn to pay," declared Mark.

"No, you paid last time," said Conrad. "Daddy, give me the quarter."

"It's forty cents on this bridge," I reminded him. "Let's wait and see which lane is clear."

It was a bright sunny day, with thousands of other families on the road. The extingencies of traffic dictated that we pass through the toll gate on Conrad's side. He made the payment over my shoulder and surprised the bridge attendant by saying "You're welcome" before he had an opportunity to utter the traditional "Thank you."

There was a throng of hikers on the bridge enjoying the unusual weekend sun, for more often than not fog clings tower-high to the massive structure. The boys were all for parking on the Marin side and hiking back to watch the ships. But the boss-lady reminded us we had a long way to go and that project was shelved for another time.

Soon we were maneuvering along, one small unit in the heavy Sunday traffic, up to Waldo approach and through the tunnel into the valley.

"This is just like Ferd'nand," said Mark.

I didn't get the reference at first but he and Conrad reminded me that in the comic section that morning a character named Ferd'nand, a silent little man in a pyramidal hat, had bought himself a "Jag-u-ire" in the fond hope of speeding through the countryside. He wound up, even as you and I, surrounded by trucks and decrepit conveyances, creeping along in the procession, breathing gas fumes.

The boys wanted to know why our destination was named Russian River. I didn't know the answer but assured them Senator McCarthy had nothing to do with it.

Conrad learned by his own inquisitorial methods that the river emptied into the Pacific Ocean and then asked why it wasn't called the Pacific river. When I explained that more than one river emptied into the Pacific, he suggested, with a certain amount of childish logic, that they could be called Pacific River No. 1, 2, 3 and so forth. I'm going to keep this idea away from the Wisconsin Senator, for fear he'll pick it up.

We proceeded without incident as far as Petaluma, where the boys decided it was ice cream time. They made their selections in a drug store while I studied the magazine rack.

"Is your magazine there, daddy?" asked Conrad.

"Which one were you looking for?" inquired the druggist.

"The 'Writer's Digest'," said Mark importantly. It was true that a few days earlier I had been looking for this particular publication.

"I don't carry that but I can give you 'Western Horseman'," said the druggist.

I said no thanks, wondering what was the connection.

"How about 'Saddle and Turf'?" the druggist suggested.

I looked to see if he was kidding and then the explanation dawned on me.

"Not Rider's Digest," I said, "but Writer's, with a 'W'."

The druggist laughed, I laughed and the boys joined in, thinking this a great joke. They rushed out to the car to tell the boss-lady all about it, spilling ice cream on the seat covers in the process, which somewhat impaired her appreciation of the comedy.

At Cotati, a few miles north of Petaluma, we left Highway 101 and turned west for the Russian river country.

The apple orchards were bearing. In some places the fruit was so abundant that, as the boys pointed out to us, the farmers had propped up the boughs with two-by-four supports. Cantaloupes were for sale at roadside stands for 75 cents a dozen and we debated about stopping and loading up, but either they were on the wrong side of the road, with too many cars coming in the other direction to make a left turn, or we were travelling too fast as we approached, so we never did get around to buying any.

In the little town of Sebastopol we spotted an open super market. We parked, held a consultation and voted unanimously for a picnic lunch on the river bank rather than eating in a restaurant.

The boys were given the privilege of selecting what we would eat, the adults reserving veto powers, and armed with pushcarts they attacked the shelves.

Consequently lunch consisted of peanuts, potato chips, corn chips, apples, cookies and chewing gum, plus, with a little urging, milk and sandwiches made from ham, cheese and ready-sliced rolls.

In Guerneville the boys shouted with glee as we drove over the narrow bridge that spans the river. After a few false attempts that brought us up on sections of the beach reserved for hotels and lodges, we found a road that led down close to the water. Here we spread blankets, disrobed, unpacked groceries and spent several pleasant hours.

On our left was a scantily clad young couple occupying one small towel and discovering the things Kinsey writes about. They regarded the scamperings of Mark and Conrad back and forth from the blankets to the water's edge with some displeasure and eventually moved to a more secluded spot.

On our right was a large family party whose most impressive member was a buxom lady in a black bathing suit. She had multiple chins and a booming baritone voice. This she used to recall from danger her numerous and active progeny. She seldom changed position and never stood up but soon we and all in our vicinity knew the first names of her brood and became accustomed to hearing them reverberate up and down the river bank.

The river itself was a colorful spectacle, nearly as crowded as the highway had been, and the boys took great delight in the canoes, decorated launches and roaring speedboats.

But all good things must come to an end and so must this tale. I've used so much space getting Mark and Conrad this far that I see I must condense the return trip. However, for anyone contemplating a similar jaunt, I recommend going home the long way around, by Highway No. 1, as we did.

The drive from Guerneville to Jenner, on the coast, was a joy, both for scenery and lack of traffic. Beautiful vistas of the widening river alternated with lush groves of green trees. Then from Jenner south we skirted the barren coastal plain, golden brown in the afternoon sun.

We stopped in Bodega Bay, a quaint fishing village with fresh salmon displayed for sale, and the boss-lady remarked that if this town were in Europe travellers would make it a must on their itinerary.

Past the state parks with their numerous camping sites, the little fishing hamlets, the boats riding at anchor in Tomales Bay and the drive along the shore of the long narrow inlet with Inverness on the opposite side, was a trip not to be missed.

Although the long way around added a few extra miles to the speedometer, it was the most pleasant part of the expedition.

And as we drove off the huge red bridge in the gathering fog of early evening, Mark had his turn at paying the toll. The collector was grave and polite as, equal to equal, they exchanged the ritual "Thank you, You're welcome."

This responsibility is a big event to a little boy. I wouldn't be surprised if the one thing he and his brother remember best about their trip to the Russian river is the giddy pleasure of transacting business with an impressive man in uniform, on terms of perfect equality.

A BIG HEADACHE IS APPROACHING

One of the biggest headaches is approaching for the parents of the nation! It is, finding a school for Junior and Jane to attend.

Daly City parents are confronted with the same problem. Local schools are overcrowded! The Colma school is a good example. Children will be able to attend for a half day. One shift will attend school from 8 o'clock in the morning until 12 noon. At 12:30 o'clock a complete change of teaching personnel takes place to teach a completely different group of children. No one in their right mind can agree that this is a good arrangement. No one can offer any solution to it. The condition in the Colma school is temporary. It is supposed to end next October. We hope sincerly that it does.

EDITORIAL

Moving from the elementary level to the high school level, we learn that the high school will be asked to accomodate more students than last year's overflowing crowd. New faculty members have been hired, but the walls of the building cannot be stretched. What's going to happen, we don't know. We doubt if the school board knows. We doubt if the county knows and we doubt if the state or national government knows. One thing we're sure of, we'll manage some way. Whether the way is good or not will not be determined for some time. When we are grandparents we'll know.

In the meantime, the youngsters of the nation are blithely enjoying the end of the summer. Some are, perhaps, looking forward to a return to school. Some will be attending for the first time.

It's time to think about clothes, shoes, school supplies, lunch boxes and other necessities. The kids will be enjoying the shopping. So will the parents, if they do not have a headache, wondering where the little darlings or big darlings will be attending school.

A THERMONUCLEAR REACTION

Well, we can stop guessing about Russia's H-Bomb, or at least, about the ability of the Soviets to set off a "thermonuclear reaction of great force." This latter is what took place in Russia on August 12. One expert said that the explosion still might not have been a bomb, but for all practical intents and purposes we had better be reconciled to the fact that the Kremlin is not too far behind, if at all, in the development of super-explosives. This incident points up the fact the the American government has never told the American people some of the facts of atomic life. No official admission that we have developed the hydrogen bomb has yet been forthcoming, but if we have—and it is widely assumed that we have—why keep it a so-called secret? The lives of the American people are involved in this atomic race and they should be told everything that can reasonably be revealed.

STATE FAIR NUMBER NINETY-NINE

The California State Fair, first held in San Francisco 99 years ago, was hardly an impressive event. But it was a small beginning of big things to come. And every year those things—th attendance, the receipts and the awards—are getting bigger.

Last year, an all-time high of 778,000 persons attended the fair, long since held in Sacramento, with the receipts topping $1 million and awards totaling $221,368.

We look for bigger things this year. And why not, since California, even with its No. 2 ranking in state populations and its vast industrial and agricultural production, is just beginning to realize its potential. Speaking of this potential, the late A. P. Giannini, who gave California world leadership in the banking realm, once declared: "My faith is as firm as ever that here our children will enjoy the finest living in the finst country in all the world."

Judging by the never-diminishing flow of newcomers to California, it would seem that people all over the country share his view and are coming here to enjoy this "finest living."

At Sacramento beginning on September 3, this way of life will be on display in all its beauty and attraction—the exhibits from the farms and factories, the livestock, the crops, the minerals, timber, manufactured goods, plus the fun and entertainment that make for happy living.

A visit to Sacramento is a "must." It's one way to really "see" California. No matter whether you have lived here all your life or have just arrived you'll go away from the fair with a better appreciation of what a magnificent place California really is. See you there!

STATE VETERANS AGENCY TO NAME INFORMATION MAN

A public information editor for California's Department of Veterans Affairs will be chosen in a civil service examination October 10, the State Personnel Board said today. Applications must be in by September 18.

The job is in Sacramento, and consists of getting out up-to-date information on veterans' rights and editing a monthly publication on the subject. It pays $505 to $613 a month.

The personnel board also announced examinations for home economics teacher, paying $310 to $436, with a closing date of September 11; furniture finisher, $341-$415, closing September 4, and lithographic offset pressman, $2.79 to $3.57 an hour, with a deadline of September 17.

Information is available at the State Personnel Board at Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles and all Department of Employment offices.

Automobile Thefts

Hundreds of automobiles are stolen every day in this country. A surprising number of them are taken by thieves because the drivers leave the keys in their cars, says the California State Automobile Association. No matter how quick your errand may be, always take your car keys with you when leaving your automobile.

Misbehaving Motorists

According to the weekly report of the Department of Motor Vehicles, the following persons were afoul of the traffic laws recently.

Mildred Adeline Chelossi, 173 Bismark street, suspended; Gus Constantine Sola, 68 Flournoy, probation.

Mr. Howard Joshua Fletcher was permanently reinstated.

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

Whiling away the time the other evening, waiting for the Larkin to open, we glanced casually through the paper, hoping to find a lead for next week's column. Of course it was only Monday and the deadline was a week away, but it's never too early to worry.

On the movie page we noted that one of the studios is planning to do a Mickey Spillane novel, and has already struck a snag. Seems that the plot requires not one but four generously endowed females. So generously endowed as to require you know who to play all four. It further seems that "due to present-day technical difficulties it's almost impossible to have a performer assume more than one part." It might not be a bad idea for that studio to get a print of "Kind Hearts and Coronets." Then they could watch Alec Guiness portray six (or was it eight?) different roles.

About this time the chinking of money into a cash register told us the Larkin was open, so feeling the need of a good laugh, in we went to see "Mr. Potts Goes to Moscow." It stars George Cole as the sanitary engineer (first class) who is mistaken for a nuclear physicist who has plans for a weapon so mighty that it will prevent all future wars. At least for two years, anyway. How he becomes the Kremlin's guest through meeting genial bogeyman Oscar Homolka, becomes aware of the value of the contents of his briefcase and gets it and himself safely to the British sector of Berlin passes 90 minutes of an evening reasonably well. It is not in the class of "Tight Little Island" or the above named "Kind Hearts," but it is a good run-of-the-studio British comedy, full of the subtleties so dear to their hearts. Don't miss the representative from Ireland attending a "peace" conference, carrying a large sign, "Down with Ulster."

The weak point of the program was the shorts surrounding the main feature. There was the shop-worn cartoon of the bang-'em-on-the-head, bash-'em-in-the-face school, and a miserable ten or fifteen minutes entitled, "Learn to Dance." Both would go over big on TV, where they belong.

Dental Treatment Rules Changed By Vets Office

Since the Veterans Administration is applying a brand new set of eligibility rules to the claims of veterans for dental treatment, Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo County, suggests that many veterans, by glancing at the VA's new rules, may anticipate the decision in their own cases.

Many veterans, Granger said, filed claims for dental treatment a long time ago, which are still awaiting approval or rejection in the A's backlog of pending cases. In many instances, veterans may appraise their chances for favorable adjudication by applying the new VA yardstick to themselves.

According to Granger, the VA will authorize care through local dentists or VA dental clinics only for (a) dental disabilities which are service connected and severe enough to entitle the veteran to compensation; (b) service - connected dental trouble which is not compensable but which existed at time of discharge; (c) dental conditions not service-connected, but aggravating a service-connected physical disability or injury.

Treatment will not be authorized for dental trouble developing after a veteran's discharge, nor will any dental conditions be assumed to have existed or begun before discharge. New treatment is discontinued for veterans taking rehabilitation training and for Spanish American War Veterans on the basis of presumed service-connection.

"Let the Veterans Administration determine your eligibility," advised Granger. "Meanwhile, if any additional facts are known, or new circumstances have arisen, you are welcome to discuss them at the Veterans Service Office, in the Courthouse, Redwood City.

Must Be Done Right

There is one form of car care that the motorist should not undertake at all unless he has sufficient skill and is willing to keep at it until it is done properly, points out the National Automobile Club. That is brake adjustments. Many a time the owner will start to do this job and stop before it is finished, with the result that the brakes are more unequal than before.

During the Civil War, the principal copper producing section of the United States was the vicinity of Copperopolis, Calaveras county.

Communist Connivance Reported To THE RECORD

Editor, The Record
3317 San Jose Avenue
Daly City, Calif.
Dear Sir:

If any further proof were needed of Soviet Russia's clumsy conniving to undermine America by formenting religious and racial bigotry among our people, it came last week from Freedom Village in Korea — from a young Houstan Negro, a returned prisoner of war.

The liberated GI, Richard Barnes, revealed an amazing trick on the part of the Commies to turn white yanks against their Negro comrades. "In the Reds' prison camp five, overlooking the Yalu river and Manchuria, we first detected the Communist determination to encourage race hatred," Barnes explained. "If you were a white man, you would get six months in solitary for an offense for which a Negro would be unpunished."

On the other hand, he said, the Communists used different schemes to turn the Negroes against the whites.

Barnes' story verifies what long has been known—that religious and racial prejudice is grist on the wheels of the Communist propaganda machine.

For years the Reds have been combing American newspapers for every incident of bigotry in our way of life. Every case of Jew-bating, every manifestation of prejudice against the foreign born or the Negro or any other minority member, has been magnified and broadcast to "prove" the false Soviet claim that democracy has failed.

The moral to be drawn is that those who participate in words or deeds that make for bigotry in America, be they directed against the Negroes, the foreign born, the Jews or any other good Americans are actually helping the Communists to weaken our democracy.

Actually, it's treason; nothing more and nothing less.

Sincerely,
E. B. Block

A LOCAL LADY SPEAKS HER MIND

Dear Editor:

I don't exactly know to whom to address this gripe. Perhaps you will direct it to the proper channels via your newspaper.

The other day I accompanied my children to Marchbanks park. It is a lovely park. The lawns are beautifully kept, the shrubs are well trimmed and watered. The facilities the children play on are also adequate. So you are wondering what my gripe is . . . well it's this. Although it may strain the budget to maintain the lawns and gardens, may I ask is the strain so great that there is not enough left to buy a ROLL OF TOILET PAPER TO PUT INTO THOSE DEPLORABLE TOILETS THAT OUR CHILDREN MUST USE?

While I'm at this pitch, I may as well get a few other foul goings on off my chest. Why is it necessary for the small fry to have to run down the great flight of stairs to use those dirty unsanitary toilets? Why can't a toilet be put on the upper level for the children? Here is an example of what I saw. One little tyke looked around for a place to go, and not finding any (the child probably doesn't even know the toilet is on the lower level, and if he did he could never get there in time to prevent a catastrophe) finally, as did his friend dog, he found the nearest convenient place and carried out his duties.

Another thing that puzzles me is why the director is camped down in that desolate little room, which I presume is the recreation room, which incidently is a disgrace to be called a recreation room, rather then on the upper level where the small fry are in need of supervision.

Being a mother of four children as well as wife, I know it's impossible to do every thing on a limited budget, so I'd look at the picture and eliminate the least important things in favor of more necessary ones. I'm sure other mothers feel as I do. Although it is gratifying to have a lovely looking park, it is far more important that our children have proper supervision as well as clean, convenient, and above all sanitary rest rooms while they are in our parks and playgrounds.

JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICT IS EXPLAINED BY SUPERINTENDENT WEIBEL

Jefferson Elementary School District
Daly City 25, Calif.
August 26, 1953

To the Patrons of the Jefferson Elementary School District:

Elsewhere in this newspaper is to be found information concerning the opening of school in September. The complicated placement of pupils is evident from the explanations we have attempted to make. Also evident is a decided reduction in the number of classes on double session despite the increasing enrollment. This reduction has been made possible by the willingness of the patrons to pay for more classrooms which your Board of Trustees and the school staff are ambitiously striving to build.

Four building projects were completed last year with another one to be completed within the next few months. Although eleven classes will be held in multi-use rooms with only a six foot partition between them, the accommodations will be adequate and will permit these classes to be on regular session. With the completion of the Colma school all classes will be on regular session for the first time in many years, unless, of course, there will be an extreme growth in enrollment.

The Board of Trustees have plans well under way for providing more classrooms to avoid a return to double sessions and to permit the multi-use rooms to be used for the purposes for which they are intended.

The program of education is likewise receiving much attention. The voters have approved an increase in the support of the schools which has made it possible to select an able staff on new teachers. Most of the new teachers hired for the coming term have had experience and all are well trained.

A staff of coordinators is employed to give assistance and guidance to the classroom teachers. A much better job can be done by the teacher who has a specialist to turn to for assistance in the regular and special subjects. The ones who ultimately profit are the pupils.

The reading program is receiving special attention with the addition of new books. A reading specialist, Dr. H. A. Bammon of Stanford University, has been engaged to address the staff at the pre-school workshop on September 10.

The Board of Trustees now consists of three members, Mrs. Helen Cheatham, chairman, Mr. Michael C. Callan, and Mr. Andrew Van Der Werff. Due to the increased size of the District and a new state law the Board will be increased to five members at the next school election. No caucus method for selecting candidates has been established in the District, although it has proven highly successful in other districts.

The present method of securing candidates is for an interested citizen to file for election before the trustee election in May.

On behalf of the school officials I wish to thank the patrons of the District for their fine support and for their patience in enduring the inconveniences caused by the large number of children which need to be enrolled. We are doing our best to make school a pleasant and profitable experience for the children and as convenient as possible for the parents.

Sincerely yours,
H. Z. Weibel
District Superintendent

How Can I?

Q. How can I mend glass successfully?

A. Melt a small quantity of pulverized alum in an old spoon. Before it hardens, rub the alum over the pieces to be united, press them together and set aside to dry. They will not come apart when washed with hot water.

Q. How can I remove stains from chinaware?

A. Just try rubbing a little salt on the stains.

Q. How can I speed up the defrosting process in my refrigerator?

A. Remove the ice from the trays, fill them with boiling water, and replace them in the freezing compartment.

Q. How can I remove general, or unidentified, stains from my sink?

A. Put the stopper in the drain and fill the sink at bedtime with a mixture of vinegar and laundry bleach. In the morning, pull the stopper out, and the chances are that the stains will go down the drain with the liquid.

Q. How can I remove decalcomania transfers from painted surfaces?

A. Douse them with vinegar. Give the vinegar a few minutes to soak in, and the decals can be wiped off with no harm done.

Q. How can I clean and freshen a concrete pavement and driveway?

A. Scrub with soap and water, or turn on the hose. Then, while the concrete is still wet, sprinkle some dry cement powder over it. After 10 minutes, sweep the excess powder off with a stiff broom.

Q. How can I frost window glass?

A. Soften some putty with a few drops of linseed oil and dab this over the outside of the window glass. It will dry into a nice frosting in a day or two, and another coat can be applied. This frosting is more or less permanent—but you defrost the glass any time, if you wish, with concentrated ammonia.

Q. How can I remove rust stains from tile?

A. If they're not too old, cover the spots with kerosene for a couple of hours, then wash with piping hot soap and water.

Q. How can I whiten the inside of an enameled pot?

A. By putting a half-cup of laundry bleach into it, filling it the rest of the way with water and letting it stand for 24 hours.

Q. How can I clean the vertical tube of a coffee percolator?

A. Try rubbing a pipe cleaner through it. Or, fill the percolator with water, ad four tablespoons of salt, put the tube in and let it perk for 10 or 15 minutes. If this dulls the luster of the percolator, restore it by boiling vinegar in it, or water with pieces of raw lemon.

Q. How can I easily clean lint and other matter off blue serge?

A. Just by rubbing the sticky side of a large piece of adhesive tape over the serge.

The State Fair Golden Bear Speaks

Magic will be the keynote at opening ceremonies of the California State Fair, September 3 through 13. After brief talks by Governor Warren and State Fair President W. C. Wright, magic takes over. The Maid of Magic, who will be chosen on August 30, will be presented with her court of ten Magic Maidens. She then wil say the magic word, and the gigantic magic bear astride a magic carpet will be lighted. The way will then be open for hundreds of thousands to see "California's Magic," theme of the fair.

NEW BUSINESS DEPT.

Open for business for the first time are . . . KEN AND GERRIE REICHARD . . . who guarantee to do a fine job on any kind of photography the customer desires. The Reichards may be contacted at . . . PL. 5-2489 . . . their home. The Reichards are particularly interested in doing children's photography and invite you to bring the little darlings around.

HELP WANTED DEPT.

A communication from . . . GEORGE E. BRENNER . . . states " . . . TRIXIE BEESON . . . will give you an ad to be printed in your weekly issue of August 27th. We are moving our headquarters to the new civic center War Memorial building. We are putting on a drive to get more players in the Daly City band from this area and the Westlake addition. We wish to build up a band of good size.

"Will you please give us a write-up in your editorial column as a special appeal to persons of the surrounding districts to join the band, mentioning that we need . . . CLARINETS . . . SAXOPHONES . . . FLUTES . . . TROMBONES . . . BASES . . . and BARITONES. Girls and boys who have had experience playing popular or classical music are welcome.

"The band will rehearse on Wednesday evenings from 8 until 10 o'clock.

"Our band has lost many players to the armed forces and we are anxious to replace them as soon as possible."

HAVING FUN DEPT.

Over in Hawaii is . . . MISS MARGERY CARSON . . . daughter of . . . MR. and MRS. WILLIAM FUCHS . . . of 231 Station avenue. She sailed last week on the Matson lines. Part of her enjoyment is making up her mind whether or not she should take a job in the land of hula and poi.

Smiling . . . ALICE WESTPHAL . . . will not be peering out of cage seven at the local Bank of America this coming week. Seven year old son . . . DAVID . . . and she are joining . . . MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE MORRIS . . . daughter . . . MARY . . . of the Colma Bank on a motor jaunt to Virginia City and Reno.

Motoring along the Al-Can highway last week were . . . MR. AND MRS. AL PARMISANO . . . on their way to Alaska to visit . . . AL JR. . . . who is stationed with the air force on America's last frontier.

AFRICAN DEPT.

A clipping from the . . . SUNDAY CHIBLI . . . a Libya, Africa newspaper tells that . . . LOUIS MAFFEI . . . son of MRS. KENNETH HEATH . . . of 48 Risel street pitched a one-hit game winning for his . . . WHELUS FIELD NOMADS . . . 1-0. This was the Nomads 21st victory against five losses. Immediately after the team left for French Morocco to play another series. In the meantime, an air force crash occurred. Mrs. Heath began burning up the cable wires to check on Louis. It took just seven hours of agony before she found out that he's okay. Word's out that Louis may be Daly City's next bonus baby if he gets discharged from the air force in time for the 1954 baseball season.

OLD FRIEND DEPT.

After last Monday night's city council meeting we looked around and spotted . . . MICKEY RICKEY . . . a fellow we hadn't seen for about 10 years. Mick was on his vacation from the Clover Club in Reno and visiting brother . . . TONY . . . who just returned with his wife . . . KATHERINE . . . from a Lake County vacation. Traveling Tony and the frau farmed out the children . . . DON . . . PATSY . . . DONNA LEE . . . and . . . JUDY . . . with Grandma who lives in Boyes Springs.

Absent from the Bruer Doughnut Shop beginning Sunday will be . . . TONY PAPPAS . . . who will take a trek to the midwest for his annual knock-off work spree. Tony cooked and cut the first steak we ever ate in a restaurant some 27 years ago. Were we surprised to see him smiling at us over the sinker and mud we ordered one morning with our eyes half-open!

MAIL DEPT.

A note from . . . DANNY HILL . . . Athletic News Director of San Jose State college states, "There are no Jefferson Union high school or Daly City boys on the San Jose State college football squad which begins practice on August 31st. There will probably be some who will be candidates for our freshman team but they do not report until after registration late in September. I'll keep you posted on them."

One of our most faithful correspondents is . . . WALTER BROWN . . . of 173 Windsor drive. Each week he sends us some kind of a letter to publish in THE RECORD, hoping in our judgment it will be of interest to our readers. . . . So far none have qualified because they are concerned primarily with San Francisco. You see Walter is the publicity director of the SF Chamber of Commerce and a good one too. He and his wife . . . MARIAN . . . have four children and a problem of getting them ready for school.

HOMECOMING DEPT.

Back in Daly City after a flying trip to Chicago is . . . MRS. JEAN BALTHAZER . . . who was visiting her newly aquired husband . . . GEORGE . . . at the Great Lakes Naval Training base. Jean returned with an unflattering opinion of the middlewest and news that George is one of the . . . 10 . . . air force men stationed among . . . 40,000 sailors.

Back behind the telephone at the police station is . . . JACK WALSH . . . who has been lounging for two weeks and taking short trips with his family.

ARGUMENT DEPT.

Readership of a column is always questionable . . . and . . . MONTE DAYTON . . . and yours truly have been at odds as to how many read . . . IN THE PAST . . . which we dig out of the files each week. Since the argument started we've discovered that . . . MRS. PETER CONCI . . . reads it and an unidentified friend of City Clerk . . . B. C. ROSS. Ross told us last week that someone congratulated him on his vacation. He couldn't figure it out and blamed the inaccuracy of THE RECORD'S reporter because such a thing was published. Later, it developed the Ross's friend had been reading the 25 Years Ago In THE RECORD section of the column. We don't give up an argument easily so we'd like to point out that whoever did read . . . IN THE PAST . . . that week didn't know what they were reading.

THREAT DEPT.

After the article on . . . LEONORE BREWER . . . last week we received a communication reading, "It's lucky duels are outlawed in California." We don't know what we did wrong. We're willing to set up typewriters at ten paces and see who can misspell the most words. We'll bet on ourselves too.

Incidentally, we hope that . . . RIDGELY CUMMINGS . . . doesn't get mad at us this week.

ULCER TIME DEPT.

With football coaches all over the nation worrying about the stars who were drafted, may be drafted and etc. . . . COACH JOE VERDUCCI . . . is no exception. Joe's current worry is ace quarterback . . . MAURICE "MO" DUNCAN . . . who got himself married two weeks ago. Mo's another old friend. Mo used to go to San Jose State and sit next to us in Biology. He was a basketball star then and kept his stellar quarterbacking a secret.

GOODWIN KNIGHT TO MEET LOCAL NEWSPAPER MEN

Lieutenant Governor Goodwin J. Knight has accepted the invitation of the San Mateo County Republican Assembly to "Meet the Press" of San Mateo county and San Francisco in September, Dan R. Love, Jr., of Burlingame, Assembly president, announced today.

"The question-and-answer session with Governor Knight is expected to be one of the liveliest and most interesting political bouts ever held in San Mateo county," Love said. "We are stressing the non-partisan nature of the meeting. We don't know which of the newspaper representatives will be Republicans and which will be Democrats. The public — both Democratic and Republican — is cordially invited."

Mrs. Rudolph Kutsche of Atherton, program chairman of the county assembly, has arranged the program, scheduled for September 23 at the San Mateo city hall. Henry Bostwick, Jr., of San Mateo, a vice-president of the assembly, will be co-chairman for the program.

Press representatives from the four San Francisco daily papers, fifteen San Mateo county daily and weekly papers and the Palo Alto Times will be on the platform with Governor Knight. They will be given the topic of his speech several weeks in advance and are expected to be well prepared with questions.

County Enrollment Expected To Jump 5,000 This Year

An estimated 5,000 more students will enroll in San Mateo county schools this year, accordto Bryan E. Curry, director of administration of the county schools.

Curry disclosed that the estimated enrollment is expected to be 55,000. Elementary schools are predicted to have 42,500. High schools will house 10,500. San Mateo Junior college will add an additional 500 to make a total for the JC of 2,000.

Benjamin Franklin school in the Jefferson elementary district will be one of three new schools opening in September. The others are the James Flood school in the Ravenswood district of East Palo Alto, the Tierra Linda in San Carlos and Fair Oaks in Redwood City.

Despite the new buildings, Curry estimated that between five and six thousand children will have to attend schools that will hold double sessions at the beginning of the forthcoming school year.

Education will cost San Mateo county residents approximately $50,801,665.15 for the coming year. (This includes funds obtained from the state of California.) Of this amount, the Jefferson Union high school district will receive $1,435,603.27. Total allocation for the two districts is $4,536,938.26, according to Curry's figures.

TORMEY ENDORSES SCIENCE FAIR

Endorsement of the San Francisco Bay Area Science Fair by the San Mateo County Board of Education was announced today by County Board Secretary and Schools Superintendent James R. Tormey.

The San Francisco Bay Area Science Fair will be held in San Francisco in the spring of 1954 as an exhibition of the work of junior and senior high school students in the Bay Area. The Science Fair is designed to encourage among high school students the development of careers in science and the technical professions. Such fairs have been previously held in many parts of the country including Kansas City, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Indianapolis and Los Angeles, and lead to final competition in a national Science Fair.

Other sponsors of the Bay Area Science Fair include the California Academy of Science, San Francisco State College, and the California Association of School Administrators of the Bay Area.

Experience Teaches

Experience teaches fools, says a Latin proverb, but foolish driving often makes the experience very costly. Take it easy, urges the California State Automobile Association, so you won't have to learn the hard way.

REARDON STARTS SEPTEMBER 7TH

San Francisco's Reardon high school will open its doors on September 7, according to Brother Al Doyle.

Brother Doyle reported that there will be a shortage of instructors at Reardon for the coming year. This is in spite of the fact that class room space is available.

The faculty at Reardon high school is composed of Brothers of Mary.

SAN MATEO JC TESTS SLATED FOR SEPT. 8

Entrance examinations will be held at the Baldwin campus of the San Mateo Junior college on Tuesday, September 8, beginning at 8 o'clock, Miss Martha Burrill, director of admission and registration, announced this week.

Miss Burrill said that the number who register is unpredictable at the present time. She anticipates no drop from the 1500 registered last year and said that an increase might be expected because of the size of the county's high school graduation class last year.

September 10-11 have been designated as registration days. Registration will be held at the Coyote Point campus, Miss Burrill disclosed.

Several new faculty members have been added to the SMJS staff, according to Miss Burrill.

O.L.P.H. School Starts September 10; Crowded Classrooms Inevitable

Our Lady of Perpetual Help school will reconvene on Thursday, September 10, Sister Mary Regina, the principal announced this week.

Sister Regina said, "Overcrowded is hardly the word to describe our school. Registration has been virtually closed since last June. If were were to have grades in double sections perhaps we could take care of all of the children."

Listed as new faculty members by Sister Mary Regina were: Sister Mary Antonia, kindergarten; Sister Mary Flavian, third grade; Sister Mary Edmund, seventh grade.

Nuns teaching at OLPH are of the order of Saint Joseph of Orange.

Closing Date

Closing date for entries in the baked goods and candies division of the Home Economics department of the California State Fair is September 1, according to Grant Duggins, exhibits supervisor. Closing date for jams, jellies, preserves and canned goods was August 19.

District Schools Begin Sept. 14

The Jefferson Elementary school will open Monday, September 14, with 3800 children expected to enroll. All children new to the District are to register on Friday morning, September 11, from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon. Registration will be in the school the child will attend. The best way for parents new to the District to determine which school their child will attend is to ask the neighbors who have school children.

Children who were enrolled last year and who know which school they will attend are to report Monday morning, September 14, and will be told their room assignment at the school.

Children who will be on double session, or who will be placed in a school outside their neighborhood will receive post cards on Friday or Saturday, September 11 and 12, notifying them of their placement.

The bus schedules, similar to the schedules last year, will be given the local papers for publication the week before school opens and will be posted in the shopping centers.

The eighth grade pupils from the entire district will attend the Colma School. The seventh graders in the Crocker-Pershing area will attend the Crocker School. All other seventh grade pupils will attend the Colma School.

The fifth grade pupils from the Woodrow Wilson School area will be transported by bus from the Woodrow Wilson School to the Sixth Street School.

The sixth grade pupils from the Woodrow Wilson area will be transported to the Crocker School.

The determing factor in the placement of the pupils is the impending opening of the Colma School additions. As the classes are now organized there will be a minimum number of changes for the pupils when moving day comes. The Colma additions should be ready for occupancy after the Christmas recess if not earlier.

The new multi-use rooms and special activity rooms at Westlake, Garden Village, and Woodrow Wilson are being used for classrooms. Partitions have been installed and as many classes as can be accommodated are housed in these new buildings.

All classes except the following will be on regular sessions:
7th and 8th at Colma.
4th, 5th and 6th at Crocker.
5th and 6th at Jefferson.
4th at Woodrow Wilson.
Following the completion of the Colma School it is anticipated all classes will be on regular session.

School Attendance Jumped 12 Per Cent Last Year -- Tormey

An average increase of nearly 12 per cent in the attendance in all public school levels of the county for the year 1952-53 was announced today by County Superintendant of Schools James R. Tormey.

While the over-all county increase at all levels was 11.63 per cent, the increase in the elementary field was 12.66 per cent. The high schools, said Tormey, which the wave of war babies has not yet reached, was 10.31 per cent.

Most rapidly increasing district on a percentage basis in the county was, for the third year, the Portola School District in the southern part of the county, with an increase rate of 37.58 per cent. Second most rapidly expanding district was Ravenswood, with an increase of 24.46 per cent, followed by Laguna Salada's 21.40 per cent.

Most rapidly increasing high school district was the Sequoia District with 12.98 per cent followed by Jefferson at 12.92 per cent, and South San Francisco with 10.08 per cent.

San Mateo Junior College showed a decrease of .7 per cent. Three of the smaller districts of the county also showed a decrease. The only bay side district, in addition to the Junior College, to show a decrease was Millbrae, with a 3.43 per cent drop, resulting primarily from the opening of new private schools in that district.

Tormey said that while the overall State increase for schools has not yet been published, preliminary indications are that the San Mateo County increase was materially over State average.

REGISTRATION DATES AT SF STATE ARE SEPTEMBER 15-16-17

Registration at San Francisco State colege will be held September 15-16-17, according to Miss Dorothy Stevick, secretary to the president of the college.

Miss Stevick estimated that the enrollment will increase over the 5,000 students registered in the college last year.

At the present time 30 new full time instructors and five part-time instructors have been hired, Miss Stevick said.

Serra Starts Sept. 10

Classes will begin at Serra high school on Thursday, September 10, with the enrollment for the school closed.

According to school authorities, over 400 students are expected to be enrolled in the San Mateo school.

Serra's faculty is composed of 12 diocesan priests and Jesse Freitas, football coach, and his assistant Tony Mattisi. Mattisi is the only addition to the faculty for the coming year.

HOLY ANGELS SCHOOL RESUMES SEPTEMBER TENTH—CROWDED

Holy Angels school in Colma will open on Thursday, September 10 with each seat in the building filled.

As THE RECORD went to press, selection of faculty members had not been completed.

Nuns of the order of the Holy Infant Jesus instruct at the Holy Angels school.

CLASSES BEGIN AT CITY COLLEGE ON SEPTEMBER 14TH

City College of San Francisco will open on Monday, September 14, according to an announcement from the office of President Louis Conlon.

According to the president's secretary, no increase in enrollment is expected since the new junior college in Alameda is expected to cut down on City College's enrollment.

No new faculty members have been hired, it was stated.

Keeping Things Cool

Keeping things cool at the State Fair will require 1,168,000 pounds of ice in all forms, according to fair officials. A major Sacramento ice company has to begin setting up a reserve supply for several months ahead to make the tremendous deliveries for drinking fountains, concessions, refrigerator cars and other needs during the fair, September 3 through 13.

Fashion Winners

Fashion winners at the California State Fair show no indication of the shorter hemline, said to be coming out of Paris this year. That is the concensus of those who witnessed the judging of nearly 150 medal winners. Throughout the entire competition one trend is outstanding—the utility of every style to California living.

Juvenile Farm Program Announced By Probation Dept. And Supt. Tormey

An agricultural education program designed to develop further the rehabilitation of children at the Hillcrest Juvenile Home was announced jointly by John S. Cowgill, San Mateo County Chief Probation Officer and James R. Tormey, County Superintendent of Schools.

The program, which was approved at the last meeting of the County Probation Committee, will be built around the services of Douglas Booth, agricultural teacher. Mr. Booth was graduated from California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo in 1952 with a Bachelor of Science degree, and taught Vocational Agriculture in the Madera High School during the school year 1952-53.

The program at Juvenile Hall will begin with the development of outdoor vegetable gardens, will work toward raising of small animals, such as rabbits and meat fowl, and will be expanded as conditions warrant. The two departments pointed out that the same type of program has proved highly successful in other parts of the country in working toward the rehabilitation of the children in juvenile homes.

The school program at Hillcrest is conducted by the County Superintendent under the direction of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors. In approving the institution of the program, the San Mateo County Probation Committee also considered the necessity of providing some form of temporary buildings for the development of additional classroom space and agricultural and general shop provisions. The committee asked Superintendent Tormey to study the various means of meeting the building situation on an emergency basis.

This type of agricultural and shop program being started on a very small scale is open to assistance by fraternal organizations throughout our County, which have an interest in boys and girls. Donations of money, materials, animals and tools will be welcomed in launching this program.

Beware Of Hitchhikers

The FBI says the number of crimes involving hitch-hikers who have been picked up by the unwary motorist is increasing. The California State Automobile Association suggests you avoid inviting anyone into your automobile unless you know the individual personally.

It is important that all students be present the first day as lockers will be assigned, books issued, etc.

The district superintendent will be in his office practically every day from now on. Parents or students are invited to phone for an appointment to discuss any school problems.

Pescadero Ranch Art School Will Be Open Over Labor Day

The Pescadero Ranch Art School announces that it will hold a special three-day session over Labor Day Holiday, on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, September 5, 6 and 7. The class was held for the first time last year and proved so popular that it was decided to make an anual event of it. Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, director of the school, announces that there will be a specal visiting artist, Marshall Potter, famous for his water color painting, to demonstrate and teach water color. One day will be devoted to oil painting, one to water color and one day when any medium may be used. Students wishing to paint in one medium only for the entire session may do so. Painting demonstrations will be held in the mornings and in the afternoons the class will paint in the country around Pescadero or at a private beach along the ocean.

On Saturday evening there will be a picnic in the redwood forest and on Sunday evening a beach party. There will also be entertainment in the studio each evening and all will have an opportunity for good comradeship and relaxation away from the crowded highways. Any one interested in painting may join the class with special attention given to beginners. Reservations should be made in advance and additional information may be had by writing to Mrs. Nell T. Reitzel, registrar of the school, Box 182, Pescadero, or by telephoning Pescadero 2721.

Bond Buying Rises

During July, sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in the 47 Northern California counties increased 30.44 per cent over July of 1952, it was reported today by W. W. Crocker, volunteer chairman of the Treasury's Savings Bond program in this area.

E and H Savings Bond sales during July amounted to $8,501,877 against $6,517,398 during July of last year—an increase of $1,948,479.

Crocker also noted that Northern California sales of the E and H Series during the first seven months of 1953 now total $61,129,650, against 1952 sales during the same period of $50,399,571—an increase this year of $10,730,079 or 21.29 per cent.

"These consistent sales increases indicate not only a strong public confidence in U. S. Savings Bonds, but a growing awareness of the personal security which the regular accumulation of Savings Bonds assures the average family," Crocker said.

Series E. Savings Bonds now pay 3 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity in 9 years 8 months. Series H Bonds earn interest at the same rate as the Series E, but the interest is paid to its holders semi-annually by Treasury Department check to provide a current income.

RALPH'S CLEANERS WIN A PAIR

DELBON SHUTS OUT SAN CARLOS 3-0 IN PBL PLAYOFF

With flinger Don Delbon striking out ten and catcher Bob Butcher homer chasing across Larry "Doc" Blanchard for two of Ralph's Cleaners three runs, the local entry in the Peninsula Baseball league won the first game of the playoff for the county championship from the San Carlos Lions.

Delbon, whose only other start in league play was a one hitter against Burlingame Inn, tossed a two hitter and walked three for his second consecutive shut-out victory. According to Manager Lou Martin, the righthander's fast ball was blazing past the San Carlos hitters after the opening batter got a bloop double to his off field. The other San Carlos hit was a single in the last inning of the game. This batter was wiped out on a double play from O'Bryant to Rosa to Earnshaw and the Delbon struck out his tenth man to end the contest.

First run for the locals came in the fifth inning when Ed Kirkes, the San Carlos catcher, dropped a foul off the bat of Davie O'Bryant and gave the Ralph's Cleaners shortstop a life. He walked, and reached third on second baseman Ray Rosa's sacrifice bunt when the San Carlos infield failed to cover properly. The next pitch was a wild one and O'Bryant scotted home with the first run. Butcher's homer followed in the next inning.

HONEYWELL HURLS BUTCHER BATS RC TO FUNSTON WIN

Behind Jim Honeywell's stellar pitching and catcher Bob Butcher's tremendous homer and triple, the Ralph's Cleaners nine defeated Rex Enterprises for their second victory of the Funston Night league season 7-5 Friday night.

Honeywell struck out nine and walked three while allowing three hits in the run away victory.

Ralph's scoring began in the fourth inning when Butcher unloaded a homerun with teammates Larry "Doc" Blanchard and Ray Rosa aboard. His triple in the seventh found Earnshaw and Rosa on the bases.

How's Your Parking?

Ever take a look at the right front tire as a yardstick of your steering finesse in parking? If you have done well, points out the National Automobile Club, the lettering on the tire sidewall will be intact. If not, you find it pretty well erased. Rubbing the tire against the curb is one of the best ways of shortening its life, for the sidewall is made of a lot less tough material than the tread.

SARTOS SINK NAVY NINE

Tito Sarto Pitches And Bats Team To Victory At Marchbanks Diamond

Fighting back from a six run deficit in the eighth inning, the scrappy Sarto AC squeezed by the U.S.S. Oraskney 7-6 in the first home game of the season at Marchbanks field.

Batting honors were shared by Tito Sarto and Jack Stamer who collected three safties each.

Sarto, who pitched the whole distance for the locals, had a no-hit game for five innings. His sore arm caught up with him in the sixth and the navy team scored six runs on four hits.

In the eventful eighth, a clutch single by Johnny Creighton scored two men and opened the gates of victory for the Sarto AC team. Zucca followed with a one-baser scoring Creighton and Sarto. This tied the score. Stamer's game winning blow was another single scoring Zucca.

Nine members of the navy team struck out and except for the four hits in the sixth, Sarto was untouchable.

After the game, Manager Harry Krohn declared, "I have one of the hustlingest and scrappinest ball clubs in the Bay Area."

Krohn said also, "I think that the groundkeepers at Marchbanks have done an excellent job and the diamond is vastly improved since the infield has been surfaced. Those men deserve a lot of praise."

Joe Sarto, sponsor of the team, declared, "The people of Daly City are missing some fine entertainment by not attending the Sunday afternoon ball games. This was a good close game that any real fan would have enjoyed. I hope we have a larger crowd next Sunday when we meet the Chirolis Nursery team."

Game time is 2 o'clock at Marchbanks.

PLATES MUST STAY AFTER CAR IS SOLD

Removal of license plates from a motor vehicle put up for sale or to circumvent registration regulations is a serious breach of the law of this state, the California State Automobile Association warns.

Except when otherwise permitted by law, license plates of this state or of any other state or jurisdiction must remain attached to the vehicle for which they are issued and be plainly displayed during the period of their validity.

An amendment to the Vehicle Code, effective September 9, expressly prohibits removal of license plates when a vehicle is held for sale.

Better To Be Late

It's better to be late for a date than early for the hospital or morgue, points out the National Automobile Club. Motorists should give themselves plenty of time to get there on time and thereby avoid that hazardous hurry.

The Outdoors

California's 200,000 licensed duck hunters can look forward this winter to the most liberal waterfowl hunting regulations since World War II.

President William J. Silva of the California Fish and Game Commission announced that his five-man group has selected a split season of two 34-day hunting periods in order to "give the best possible break to all segments of the State's hunting and agricultural groups."

The 1953 seasons will run from Noon, October 16, to sunset, November 18; and from Noon, December 8, to sunset, January 10, 1954.

Open Season On Jacksnipe

For the first time since 1940, the U. S. Department of the Interior granted California hunters an open season on jacksnipe. Given a 15-day hunting period choice between October 1 and January 10, the California commissioners selected December 8 (Noon) to December 22. Daily bag and possession limit is eight jacksnipe.

The Commission had a choice between a straight 75-day waterfowl hunting season and the twin 34-day seasons. The latter was chosen, Silva said, to allow hunters to harvest birds which might cause searious early and late season crop damage. It will also permit better hunting for the unattached hunter and offer a chance to shoot late-arriving geese.

Last year, California hunters shot during a straight 70-day waterfowl season.

In Federal regulations announced earlier from Washington, the State was given an increased daily bag and possession limit of seven ducks, plus four pintails or widgeon singly or in combination. 1952 laws permitted six and two.

The "bonus" bag of widgeon and pintails was inaugurated last year as a crop depredation relief measure. The two species have increased to the point where their numbers should be thinned, the Washington announcement stated.

The State's goose limit was kept at six birds, including not more than three birds of the dark species (common Canada or honker, white-fronted or speckle-belly, and tule geese). The lesser Canada or Hutchin's goose and the cackling goose were dropped from the dark species limitation this year. No Roos's goose may be taken.

Hunters Get Break

Silva said coastal hunters and farmers will get a special break during a new black sea brant hunting season set between December 1 and February 10, which is expected to relieve crop damage complaints. Bag limit remains three brant.

The bag and possession limit on coot, or mudhens, was raised from 15 to 25.

Hunting hours for ducks, geese, brant and coot were liberalized in the Pacific flyway to allow shooting until sunset, instead of one hour before sunset. It was another crop relief measure.

The controversial "one-half mile clause" of the Federal prohibitions against shooting near baited ponds were eliminated this year. The Washington announcement asserted that "the regulation essentially retains all other provisions which existed in previous years."

Seth Gordon, director of the Department of Fish and Game, has announced the resignation of William B. Morse as manager of Region No. IV at Fresno and appointment of Deputy Director Walter Shannon to that position on an interim basis.

Gordon said Morse's resignation was effective August 15 and that Shannon will take over as regional manager without delay so that there will be no break in service to the sportsmen of the San Joaquin Valley. Region IV includes Kern county on the south and Stanislaus county on the north.

New Regional Manager

The Department director stated that assignment of Shannon to fill Morse's vacated position would serve the dual purpose of providing the Region IV organization with continued direction and to provide sufficient time for selection of a qualified successor to Morse.

Morse has served as regional manager since October 1 of last year.

Shannon originally joined the Department of Fish and Game in 1936 as an assistant warden and has served in practically every activity of the department since that time. In February of 1952, he was promoted from Assistant Chief of Patrol to the deputy director position. At the time he was No. 1 on the civil service list for a regional manager assignment.

A former license agent of the California Department of Fish and Game who failed to pay on time the $168 he owed the State in license fees is now serving a 30-day jail sentence for the offense.

Jack Bartlett of Pitville, Lassen county, now a truck driver, was sentenced to a six-month jail sentence by Superior Court Judge Albert F. Ross. All but 30 days was suspended when Bartlett repaid the State agency the money he had collected from the sale of hunting and angling licenses.

The Outdoors

California dove hunters, who start a 30-day hunting season at Noon, September 1, are advised by the Department of Fish and Game to look into recent Legislative changes in the State's refuge system.

Chief E. L. Macaulay of the Wildlife Protection Branch stated that there are a total of 10 areas closed to all types of hunting in Modoc, Lassen, Siskiyou, Plumas, and Tehama counties two in Riverside county; and one each in Lake, Mendocino, Placer, Eldorado, Alpine, Amador, Tuolumne, Fresno, Marin, Contra Costa, Santa Clara, San Benito and San Diego counties.

Other temporary closures may be made by the U. S. Forest Service, the Fish and Game Commission or local governments at any time, he warned.

Watch For Signs

"First get a free copy of the hunting regulations at your license agent's," Macaulay advised, "and then watch for posted refuge signs in your hunting area."

California hunters and anglers who violated provisions of the Fish and Game Code in July paid fines of $20,517 and spend 328 days in jail.

A total of 607 Californians left the straight and narrow during the month, compared to 591 arrests for the same month last year and 516 in 1951.

Angling without a license lured 189 fishermen into local justice courts, while other types of fresh water angling violations hooked 174 others for a fine or jail sentence.

For each offense, the errant sportsmen paid an average fine of $33.80. Nine violators were sentenced to spend an average of 36 days in jail.

Isidore Kozlowski of Coalinga and his son, Isidore Jr., were the first two out of 500 names selected in a drawing to decide who will receive permits to hunt during this year's special either-sex deer hunting season in the Barton's Flat area of Fresno and Tulare counties.

More than 2,900 California hunters submitted applications to take part in the 15-day hunt which starts November 15. It was set by the California Fish and Game Commission at the request of local sportsmen as a means of reducing numbers of surplus deer which are now overtaxing their feed supplies.

Improve Their Chances

The two Kozlowskis were selected under the State provision which allows hunters to submit paired applications with one drawing number to improve their chances of hunting together.

Included among the first names drawn:

Elizabeth and Bill Dart, Chowchilla; Manuel Flores, Frank J. Slebiss, Jesse Jackson, Alfred Totalo and Tony Brosi, all of Fresno; Don Disclmer, Lomita; S. M. Ellis, Kerman; George Taniguchi, Fowler.

Game farms and holding pens operated by the California Department of Fish and Game produced a total of 5,400 upland game birds which were released throughout the State during the first two weeks of August.

Merced, Stanislaus and Madera counties received 2,300 birds of the 14-day release total.

Post Office Protects Publishers Against Threatening Letters

One of the hazards of the publishing business is the unsolicited manuscript. Lately it has been causing a great deal of trouble.

Here is one man's solution to the problem:

"More and more items are being sent through the mail unsolicited and followed by threatening letters if remittance for items is not made. Here is an unique answer. When the book package or item arrives he sets it aside until the letter arrives demanding payment. He replies that he will return the unsolicited merchandise sent him upon receipt of the packaging and handling fee $1.50 or will turn the merchandise over to any authorized representative of the firm who calls at his office." "Merchandise received under such circumstances need not be returned nor is it necessary to remit payment. If the sender resorts to threatening letters, the post office department will investigate. Don't acknowledge receipt of the letters. Turn them over to the post office."

The Record At Work

RIDGELY, MARK AND CONRAD CUMMINGS

THE CUMMINGS FAMILY enters THE RECORD building on a tour of inspection. The surprised looking man is Ridgely Cummings, the columnist. Mark and Conrad, 7 and 5 respectively, are peering over the hand rail.

Meet Ridgely Cummings —And His Two Sons

Ridgeley Cummings, author of the column RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS is a firm believer in personal journalism. He contends that newspapers are meant to express the opinions of strong personalities. His particular idol is the deceased William Allen White, the sage of Emporia, Kansas. Cummings believes also that the future of personal journalism lies in the hands of the independent owners of newspapers. The weekly paper is a particularly good media for personal journalism, Cummings said.

What Is Personal Journalism?

Personal journalism is an expression of a point-of-view by an individual who sincerly believes he is right, according to Cummings. This opinion is aired regardless of consequence in an individual style that is easily recognized. The reader is left without doubt as to who is writing and what is meant. Cummings said that an editor should be guided only by clear thinking when taking a stand on a particular issue. "Clear thinking should be the only guide to an editor's policy," Cummings explained.

These opinions were expressed while Cummings was conducting his sons—Mark, seven and a half, Conrad, five and one-half—on a tour of THE RECORD building.

Cummings' Qualifications

The columnist ought to know what he is talking about. He has a long career of writing behind him. He has attended Columbia and Oregon universities—two of the top journalism schools in America. He was graduated from Oregon U. after taking time out of school for a trip around the world. Other schools attended by this well-educated journalist include John Hopkins university, University of California and San Francisco State college. He did graduate work at the latter two schools. Cummings made his tour around the world as a member of the merchant marine. He emerged from the maritime service with a first mate's license.

An Unique Experience

While watching the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II of England on television, Cummings recognized the six-foot four inch queen of the Tonga Islands. He had last seen her when he was a member of the crew of the first American ship to visit Nuknalofa the chief port of the islands. He described the queen as a perfectly proportioned Polynesian lady who had personally greeted the crew of the "Golden Fleece" and invited them to an exotic native celebration of the occasion. "Seeing her on television brought back memories of the seas near New Zealand and the most interesting port I visited on my voyage around the world," Cummings said.

A Busy Man

Despite his spending time in getting a college education, working as a merchant marine, taking an active interest in the raising of his two sons and contributing to newspapers, Ridgely Cummings has found time to write prose and poetry which many editors have seen fit to publish. His work has appeared in Goad, Counterpoint, Music Views, Trace, Tele-View, Antioch Review, Deer And Dauchand, "Gusto" "The American Writer" "Archer" and "Fronds."

Besides these outside achievements, the columnist has done play writing. He was a co-producer of a light comedy "See My Lawyer" a Hollywood show. Both leading actors in the show went on to better things in television and the movies. The show ran for a month in Hollywood and the reviews were flattering, Cummings said.

Also, Cummings makes a yearly contribution to "Scoop" the annual hard-cover publication of the San Francisco Press Club of which he is a member.

The rest of his time, he spends in free-lance writing.

The Cummings Boys

Readers of RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS are familiar with Mark and Conrad Cummings. Their father reports their antics, opinions and pithy observations on numerous occasions. They are lively, curious youngsters of erect bearing and somewhat serious faces. They attend the Cooper school in San Francisco. Mark the oldest publishes a small newspaper and is able to ask the "right" questions when around printing equipment. Conrad, the younger, squirms a bit more than his brother and asks questions about everything.

While at THE RECORD building, the boys announced that they were hungry and their father offered to buy them a meal. As they left to eat, they were arguing the merits of a hamburger as compared with the merits of a full meal. Father seemed to be losing as the trio walked out.

Mrs. Agnes Cumming, the boy's mother has been married to Ridgeley for 10 years. She is a psychotherapist working for the Welfare Department.

Mark and Conrad returned from lunch without divulging what the menu had been. They arrived back in time to get a copy of THE RECORD hot off of the press and had the linotype operator give them a tiny plate bearing the names of each.
